The rules and regulations governing the capital contribution and investment examination and approval will be separately prescribed by the central competent authority.

Chapter 3 Establishment and Merger

Article 6

The fishermen associations are classified into two levels, namely the regional fishermen association and the national fishermen association. Fishermen associations at both levels, subject to approval of the competent authority, may establish branch offices in accordance with the actual needs.

The Taiwan Provincial Fishermen Association established prior to the amendment of the Act on 19 January 2012, shall be reorganized as the National Fishermen Association upon the amendment becoming effective.

The regional fishermen associations are the fishermen associations at basic level, which are established at level of fisheries district with intense fisheries. The division among fisheries districts shall be surveyed by the competent authorities of municipal or county (city) governments, and approved and promulgated by the central competent authority.

The name of regional fishermen associations shall be prescribed by the competent authority of the municipal or county (city) governments.

Article 6-1

When the Taiwan Provincial Fishermen Association reorganized as the National Fishermen Association, the tenure of original elected personnel may continue until the expiration of that term.

Article 7

There shall not be two fishermen associations at the same level within the same fishing district or the same village and township.

Article 8

The central competent authority may command the regional fishermen associations to merge due to their limited fisheries district, insufficient fisheries or economic condition.

Article 9

A regional fishermen association shall establish fishermen task force, by fisheries type or administrative district of village, as the basic unit to carry out the business of the fishermen association.

Article 10

A regional fishermen association, when its members operate outside their jurisdictional fishing districts following the gathering of fishery stocks, may establish a temporary branch office at each of the local fishing district to conduct the business concerned. The branch office shall be abolished after the fishing season, and the date of establishment and abolishment shall be reported to the local fishermen association so the local fishermen association can pass them to the competent authority for perusal.

Article 11

In the case that there are not less than 100 fishermen with qualified membership in the same fisheries district, they may take the initiative to organize a regional fishermen association.

A subordinate fishermen association shall join the superior fishermen association as member and is subject to guidance and assistance of the superior fishermen association. Such rules and regulations shall be prescribed by the central competent authority.

Article 12

For the initiative of fishermen association, the initiators shall appoint the members of the preparatory committee, which shall be reported to the local competent authorities for perusal before the committee organized pursuant to the related laws and regulations.

The convention of preparatory committee and inaugural meeting shall be reported to the competent authorities so as to send personnel to guide the preparatory work and supervise the election.

Article 13

A fishermen association shall, within seven (7) days after the inaugural meeting, submit the charter of organization, scroll of members (representatives), and the curriculum vitae of directors and supervisors to the competent authorities for perusal and issuance of an accreditation certificate and an official seal.

Article 14

The charter of a fishermen association shall clearly state the follow items:

- Name and tenet.
- Ruling district and address.
- Duties and organizations.
- Affiliation, disaffiliation, and dismissal of membership.
- Rights and obligations of members.
- Allocated numbers, scope of authorities, tenure, election, and recall of member representatives, directors, and supervisors.
- Appointment, dismissal, and duties of secretary general.
- Meetings.
- Businesses of common facilities.
- Membership dues, funds, property, and accounting.
- Procedures for the amendment of the charter.

Article 14-1

In the event that there are not less than two regional fishermen associations in a municipal city or county (city), they may jointly apply to the competent authority of the municipal city or county (city), and merge as one regional fishermen association after approval granted.

The regional fishermen association, within six months from the date that the competent authority of municipal city or county (city) granting approval for merger, shall complete re-election of elected personnel and re-appointment of secretary general, whose tenure shall terminate at the end of that term.

Article 14-2

Before the fishermen associations apply for merger pursuant to the Paragraph 1 of the preceding Article, they shall jointly organize the merger preparatory committee, preparing merger plan and contract pertaining to the relevant matters. After the plan and contract reviewed and considered by the board of directors, they shall be attached with balance sheets, income statement and details, retained earnings statement, cash flow statement and property inventory, which are audited and certified by a certified public accountant and checked by the board of supervisors, and they shall be reported to the general members (representatives) meeting to make a resolution pursuant to the provisions of Article 39.

The merger plan and contract referred in the preceding Paragraph shall clearly state the follow items:

Merger plan, including the approach of merger, evaluation of economic efficiency, general condition of fisheries district after merger, business development plan, financial projection for the coming three (3) years, expected progress, and evaluation of feasibility.

Merger contract:

Names of each regional fishermen association before merger, name of the regional fishermen association after merger and its fisheries district.

Evaluation on the assets and liabilities of the regional fishermen association.

Methods to protect the rights and interests of the members and employees of the regional fishermen association, and the disposal of allocated numbers of elected personnel.

The charter of the regional fishermen association after merger.

If the resolution referred in the Paragraph 1 is adopted in the general members (representatives) meeting, the regional fishermen associations shall, within ten (10) days after the resolution, proclaim the contents of resolution and the items to be clearly stated in the merger contract at the regional fishermen associations and each of their branch office for at least seven (7) days, and post on newspapers and the website(s) designated by the competent authority of the municipal city or county (city) for at least five (5) days. The proclamation shall specify an objection period of not less than thirty (30) days. Dissenting members shall make objection in writing within the specified period. When one-third or more members raise objection, the original resolution shall become void. If no objection is raised within the specified period, the resolution shall be deemed agreed.

After the resolution referred in the Paragraph 1 is adopted, the regional fishermen associations shall, within ten (10) days after the resolution, proclaim the contents of resolution and the items to be clearly stated in the merger contract to the creditors in writing. The proclamation shall specify that the creditors may raise any objection in writing within the specified period, which shall not be less than thirty (30) days, claiming that the merger would damage their rights and interests.

If the regional fishermen associations do not make the proclamation pursuant to the period and contents as stipulated in Paragraph 3, or do not proclaim to the creditors pursuant to the period, approach and contents as stipulated in the preceding Paragraph, or fails to satisfy, or provide an appropriate security interest for the claims of the creditors raising objection within specified period, the merger of the regional fishermen associations shall not be valid against such creditors.

Article 14-3

When regional fishermen associations apply to the competent authority of municipal city or county (city) for merger pursuant to Paragraph 1 of Article 14-1, they shall submit the following documents:

Merger plan and contract.

Minutes of general members (representatives) meeting of the regional fishermen associations.
